Sofa Companion One Hand Distance

Remote control and panel in one space are complementary to each other As you walk around in your home You typically use the wall panel to control all the smart devices in your home When you're sitting on the sofa or in the dining room chair The most convenient way to control is definitely the remote control Although the mobile app also plays the same role, but it only happens when you are sitting and the remote control is far away from you Because it takes more operational steps by mobile app

Searching for the most convenient way is a
"human instinct"

whether it's a way of manipulation or a certain name, for example
"Red Star Macalline" is called "red star" by most people not the full name so are "Sixth Space" and "Easyhome"

When there was no smart home devices it existed actually two remote controllers that were essential to our lives the "aircon remote control" and the "TV remote control" The "Smart remote control" is equivalent to an "All-in-one Remote Control" which can control not only air conditioners and TVs, but also lights, curtains, background music and all other devices as well as various scene modes such as Home Mode and TV Mode
